Follow Our Reads Overview

Follow our Reads is a unique and innovative community project sponsored by the Richardson Friends of the Library.

All adult Richardson readers are invited to participate in this online Community Reading List. To be a Richardson reader, you can live here, work here, play here, study here, volunteer here or read here. Visit www.richardsonfol.org to recommend a book to our community and to view book recommendations from fellow Richardson readers.

How To Submit A Book

Pick a book that you want to share with the community.

Visit www.richardsonfol.org and fill out an online book suggestion form. Include a summary of the book and why you want to share it.

Your submission to Follow our Reads will result in a digital profile on the Follow Our Reads website that is available to readers throughout our community.

Want to be entered into the raffle to win a Villi Custom Cruiser Bicycle? The bike comes with a book basket, of course! Submit your book recommendation on www.richardsonfol.org by October 30, 2016. Contest and book submissions are for adults 18 and older.

Richardson Reader: Janet Vance

What idea resonates in this book? The fact that the main characters find redemption living ordinary life.

How does this relate to Richardson? We're all in this together.

Richardson Reader: John Moran

What idea resonates in this book? "Those who fail to learn from history are doomed to repeat it". This is perhaps one of the most well known quotes of all time and its enduring legacy is a testament to its relevance. The future is inextricably tied to the past. With this knowledge of the cycles of history, we must decide if we will choose to benefit from this wisdom.

How does this relate to Richardson? The future of Richardson may benefit from its citizens and leadership understanding the nature and history of previous cycles, both in Richardson and around the world.

Richardson Reader: Rebecca Noah Poynter

What idea resonates in this book? Anybody can create or innovate a small product, part, prototype or invention.

How does this relate to Richardson? If you have a library card you can "check out" the 3D printer and test your invention or idea. It is very exciting to know the new industrial revolution is happening at the Richardson Public Library.
